Last week, AV published business KPIs for 1Q25 and confirmed guidance on FY25. The most important figure is for order intake, up double-digit YoY and accelerating QoQ, a tangible sign of proper implementation of the new commercial set-up and the soundness of AV's integrated offering. The positive momentum continued into April, particularly in the Americas. We think AV is still delivering on its main financial indicators, strengthening the turnaround launched at the start of last year. We confirm estimates, positive view and €4.60 TP.

■ 1Q revenues slightly down YoY, as expected... AV reported 1Q25 revenues at €40.3mn, a -5% organic decline YoY vs. €42.6mn in 1Q24, as broadly trailed by AV at the recent CMD. By geography, Italy (€8.2mn, -16%) was penalised by a more challenging comparison base (+56% in 1Q24), mainly due to the introduction of new pharma regulations during the last year; Europe (€13.5mn, +24%) accelerated QoQ; and the Americas (€15.5mn, -13%) was weak as expected. Revenue by CGU was thus: Life & Cosmetic at €16.9mn (-9%) mainly on a decrease in inspection machines for the pharmaceutical sector due to a change in seasonality, expected to be recouped in the next quarters; FMCG at €14.1mn (-2%) on a stable trend due to reduction in Rigid Containers (-16%) vs. a positive trend in Food Inspection (+53%); Supply Chain Transparency at €8.3mn (+14%) on strong growth of LS software (+30%).

■ ...but solid intake, accelerating QoQ. Order intake was up +25% YoY (+€10mn), with a strong recovery in the Americas (+37%) indicating a significant reversal of trends, and in Europe (+54%). By BU, we highlight a sharp increase for LS&C (+41%) and SCT (+112%).

■ Adj. net debt in line QoQ. Adj. Net debt was €84mn, in line with FY24 thanks to an improvement of profitability, and a constant focus on WC, with intensity on net sales improving vs. the 23% in FY24.

■ No changes to estimates. Considering 1Q25 KPIs, and positive indications on order intake, we are leaving our FY25-27 forecasts unchanged. We still forecast revenue increasing at a ~6.5% CAGR in 2024-27 (in line with the low end of the recent plan), while the adj. EBITDA margin is projected at 20.1% in 2027. As for cash flow, we expect net debt at c. €41mn as at the end of the projections, or 0.8x adj. net debt / EBITDA, slightly above the plan floor at ~1x.

■ OUTPERFORM and €4.60 TP confirmed. We maintain our positive stance on the stock and confirm our DCF-based target price of €4.60. At this level, the stock would trade at 10.7x and 8.6x EV/adj. EBITDA for FY25 and FY26, respectively—valuations we view as undemanding for a company with a leading position in T&T for the LS sector and multiple growth opportunities in emerging end markets. We believe AV is on the right path to potentially return to historical profitability levels, supported by a business model with a solid gross margin and a high degree of scalability. Encouraging signals came from order intake, with clear improvements in the US market, which is emerging from stagnation. Management expects it to contribute positively to revenue growth in FY25, reducing previous concerns on this area.

GUIDE TO FUNDAMENTAL RESEARCH

The main methods used to evaluate financial instruments and set a target price for 12 months after the investment recommendation are as follows:

- Discounted cash flow (DCF) model or similar methods such as a dividend discount model (DDM)
- Comparison with market peers, using the most appropriate methods for the individual company analysed; among the main ratios used for industrial sectors are price/ earnings (P/E), EV/EBITDA, EV/EBIT, price /sales.
- Return on capital and multiples of adjusted net book value are the main methods used for banking sector stocks, while for insurance sector stocks return on allocated capital and multiples on net book value and embedded portfolio value are used
- For the utilities sector comparisons are made between expected returns and the return on the regulatory asset base (RAB)

Some of the parameters used in evaluations, such as the risk-free rate and risk premium, are the same for all companies covered, and are updated to reflect market conditions. Currently a risk-free rate of 4.0% and a risk premium between 5.5%-6.0% are being used.

Frequency of research: quarterly.

Reports on all companies listed on the S&P500 Index, most of those on the MIBEX Index and the main small caps (regular coverage) are published at least once per quarter to comment on results and important newsflow.

A draft copy of each report may be sent to the subject company for its information (without target price and/or recommendations), but unless expressly stated in the text of the report, no changes are made before it is published.
